School Preparing For Entertainment

The students of the public school have been busy this week preparing the Red Men's Hall for the commencement exercises Friday evening. The hall has been decorated with evergreens and the stage extended to accommodate some numbers on the program. Considering the success of former efforts a record crowd is expected.

The union services for the graduating class, held at the Presbyterian Church Sunday evening, attracted one of the largest religious gatherings ever witnessed in Wrangell.

Gill Netters Busy

The king salmon that has serious intentions of making his way up the Stikine River is now confronted with a formidable gauntlet of gillnets. Nearly all the boats are fishing now and the flats and straits are dotted with drifting craft, many of which can be seen from town.

German Baron Scores But One

Baron Von Hagen and Capt. Seyd, German big-game hunters, who have been hunting on the Iskut River with Charlie Roos and Roy Elliott, of Wrangell, returned from the chase Saturday with one bear that fell to the lot of the Baron. The reason for the small bag is thought to be from hunting too early in the season.

Fires Raging

The fire demon is again raging in many Pacific Coast forests. Many lumber camps and towns in the Cascade mountains of Washington have been consumed by the flames. Fires are reported along the southeastern coast of Alaska and on the Yukon the damage from fires is estimated in millions from timber burned and damage to navigation from destruction of firewood piled on the banks for use of aiver steamers.

New Departure in Cannery Tenders

Staunch Mirene presents appearance of power and certainty.

The Mirene, the new tender for the Lake Bay cannery, is an almost entirely new departure from the speedy and rakish craft being brought up for service in Alaska waters. The Mirene, built by Cruise & Banks at Coos Bay, Oregon, is a staunch 64 foot boat with 20 ft. beam built to withstand the hardest service. She is powered with an 80 h. p. Standard motor that drives her eight knots per hour with a consumption of eight gallons of oil. Her equipment of modern conveniences includes anchor and cargo handling donkey, Dayton lighting outfit and wireless outfit. Her cargo capacity is 90 tons.

Captain J. J. Reynolds reports the trip from Seattle to Ketchikan in 82 hours with a cargo of 74 tons of which 40 drums of oil was a part. The Mirene will be used at the Lake Bay Cannery during the canning season and will engage in the coast trade the remaining months of the year.

Another Chinese Puzzle Unwinds

For some time past Capt Jinks and an almond-eyed friend have been busy building an annex to the store with the variegated color front. Some conjecture has been voiced by nearby white neighbors of Chinatown as to the use of the annex. Bunkhouse, messhouse and warehouse were random shots for it is the home of a bakery where pies, cakes and all tasty pastry is made to be sold over the counter of the store with the multi-colored bosom. From the writer's view, which is quite close, it looks as though another junk has found an anchorage in our harbor.

No Contract For Water Extension

Considering the bid submitted for the extension of the water system on Stikine Avenue exorbitant, the City Council has decided to have the work done by day labor and men were put at work on the trench Tuesday.

Capacities Reduced Alaska Steamers

By new inspection certificates recently issued the passenger carrying capacities of some of the steamers plying in Alaska waters were greatly reduced. The following figures show the old and new capacities:- City of Seattle, cut from 419 to 118; Spokane, 273 to 130; Jefferson, 300 to 219; North-western, 576 to 239. No reason for the reduction was announced but it thought to come from the far reaching effect of the Titanic disaster and inquiry. As the Spokane's excursion accommodations were reserved months ago many tourists will probably be disappointed in seeing the northern "wonderland" on the palatial steamer.

St. Philip's Church

The Church's Birthday Celebration at St. Philip's Church May 26. Interpreted sermon 10:30 A. M. Evening service—subject of sermon "The Church Necessary to Civilization."

HATS HATS HATS

The Latest and Largest line of Summer Hats for Ladies, Gentlemen or Children are now being displayed in our windows. They consist of straws, silk and cotton crashes, white ducks and felts. The most particular person will be able to find a fit in this large assortment.

Troller Falls From Skiff

Chris Turgersen, a young fisherman trolling for Hans Anderson, of the schooner North Star, fell overboard from his skiff yesterday and was drowned before assistance could reach him. Turgersen had been aboard the schooner and was making ready to troll when he fell over. A companion on the schooner heard this shout and on seeing the empty skiff ran to his own skiff and while untying the boat heard heard another cry from the drowning man but he was not seen again. Capt. Anderson and Capt. McCoy of the Louise S, came to Wrangell this morning to notify Turgersen's brother, now fishing on the Stikine, of the accident.

Lighthouse Tender Armeria Wrecked

News from the north reports the twin screw steel lighthouse tender, Armeria a total wreck. The ship broke loose Monday night struck a rock and was beached. The crew was taken aboard the Admiral Sampson.

Torture.
"Do you mean to tell me that you believe women are able to bear up more heroically than men under torture?"
"I do. Where is there a man who could wear a tight corset even for a day?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Edam Cheese.

In Holland Edam cheese is not excavated, but is sliced off, and the Dutch have a saying, "Die myn kaas shydt als een schuyt, die jaag ik myn deur uit"—"Whoso cuts my cheese like a boat, to him I show the door."

Americans Abroad.

First American Tourist (in a Paris cafe)—What shall we order?
Second Ditto—I dunno. Wait. I noticed in one of the papers that snails have nearly doubled in price. Let's have a snail.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Cats Scratch a Table Leg to Pieces.
A table has been in the possession of a Dulwich family for over eighty years, and during this time the various cats they have possessed have scratched one leg and one leg only till at last they so wore it away that it became useless and had to be replaced with a new leg. The old leg is still in existence and kept as a curiosity.—London Strand Magazine.

A Japanese Coal Mine.

What is perhaps the most extraordinary coal mine in the world as well as the smallest is situated on a tiny island in the Japan sea near Nagasaki and has just sufficient room upon its surface for the shafts and the hoisting machinery. The workings, which are very extensive, extend in all directions under the sea.—Wide World Magazine.

HOPEFUL MEN.

The men whom I have seen succeed best in life have always been cheerful and hopeful men; who went about their business with a smile on their faces and took their changes and chances of this mortal life like men.—Kingsley.

Gold Stampede Narrowly Avoided

Old history pricks placer gold bubble which set Wrangell boiling.

Excitement among the prospect blood of Wrangell was stirred by story of a mysterious placer find, the "diggings" supposedly in sight of Wrangell, and many were the speculative glances directed on the horizon. The bubble burst, however, in time to prevent a stampede by the tracking down of the history of Mill Creek, which proved to be the location of the strike. Some years ago the creek was located and to make a stronger title, the ground was salted and peppered with coarse gold and entered as placer claims. Some happy human struck the salt lately and hence the mysterious find and consequent excitement.

Rehearsals Necessary.

Kathryn—I don't see why they need so many rehearsals for the Sarah Strongarm and Percy Pinfeather wedding. Kitty—That's so they won't laugh when she promised to obey him.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Handicap.

"Begin every day well," said the philosopher.
"Sure!" said the grouch. "But what are you going to do if you've got chronic indigestion?"—Detroit Free Press.

Her Point of View.

Miss Baker—Do describe the Riviera to me. Traveled Invalid—Well, my rheumatism was better there, but my teeth troubled me some, and my nerves were bad. That's just the sort of place it is.—Harper's Bazar.

Remember This.

"Everything comes to him who waits, I suppose," said the restaurant diner patiently.
"Yes, sub," answered the colored waiter, "but the gentleman what won't wait done gets his first."—Life.

A Silent Hour.

"The after lunch nap is my favorite hour of the whole day."
"I thought you didn't sleep after lunch."
"I don't, but my wife does."—London Opinion.

Eating Time.

Excited Father—Heavens, Mame, the baby got at my gold watch! Calm Mamma—And what did the darling do, dear? Excited Father—Bit off from half past 1 to 11:45 with his little tooth.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Social Tact.

Mrs. Green—You spoke just now of social tact. Precisely what do you mean? Mrs. Wyse—By social tact I mean getting familiar with all sorts of people without letting them get familiar with you.—Boston Transcript.

Balked.

Lawyer for Defendant—Now, sir, you say that my client disappeared in the darkness after knocking you down. What time of night was this? Complainant—I can't say exactly. Your client had my watch.—Life.

Dead.

Uncle Ezra—How is business in New York, Eben? Uncle Eben (lately returned)—Awful dead! I was on Broadway one whole day and I didn't see a single load of hay moving anywhere.—Judge.

Finished Flatterers.

"Are all women to be won by flattery?"
"Not by any means," replied Miss Cayenne. "If that were the case prima donnas would invariably marry their press agents."—Washington Star.

A Blunder.

"What on earth made you compliment Miss Fetchit on her taking ways?"
"Why not?"
"Don't you know the poor girl is a kleptomaniac?"—Baltimore American.

SALE OF TIMBER, Ketchikan, Alaska, April 18, 1912. Sealed bids marked outside, "Bid, Timber Sale Application, January 23, 1912, Tongass," and addressed to the Forest Supervisor, Forest Service, Ketchikan, Alaska, will be received up to and including the 25th day of May, 1912 for all the merchantable dead timber, standing or down, and all the live timber designated for cutting by the Forest officer, located on an area to be definitely designated by a Forest officer before cutting begins, including approximately 40 acres on the east side of at the head of Eliza Harbor, Admiralty Island, within the Tongass National Forest, Alaska, estimated to be 1,000,000 feet B. M. of live and dead spruce and hemlock sawtimber, log scale, more or less. No bid of less than $1.00 per thousand feet B. M. will be considered and a deposit of $200.00 must be sent to C. T. Gardner, Special Fiscal Agent, Forest Service, Ketchikan, Alaska, for each bid submitted to the Supervisor. Timber upon valid claims is exempted from sale. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. For further information and regulations governing sales address Forest Supervisor, Forest Service, Ketchikan, Alaska.

Oranges Once a Prohibited Fruit. Oranges were for some years a prohibited fruit in Holland. When the Batavian republic was established the badge and color of the stadtholder's family became so hateful to the popular party that, not satisfied with expelling their prince, they passed a law forbidding the sale of oranges and carrots and ordering all persons who grew lilies or marigolds in their gardens to pluck up the plants and destroy them. This prohibition remained in force until 1806, when Napoleon made his brother Louis king of Holland.

To Make Work a Pleasure. Mothers, wives, make the home homeable. Let God's air in. Start your boys and girls, your husbands, out fresh and clean in the morning. Send them off with a kiss and a smile. It makes all the difference in the world. You can accomplish more, and so can they, because a body that is fresh and clean and wholesome and a heart that is happy and glad give physical strength and endurance, so that work is not merely a grind, but a pleasure.—Suburban Life.

A Wise Woman. "If I were a great author I would dedicate a book to you." "You'll do that anyhow," replied the bride. "What sort of book?" "A check book."—Washington Star.

Not Flattering. Jim—Have a cigar, George. They say there are more than a million and a half brands of cigars made. George (sampling the gift)—Funny it should be just your luck to pick this one.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Merely a Look In. "I'm not getting a fair show," growled the one night stand operator comedian.

"Ah, cheer up!" said the prima donna. "Meditate on what the audience is getting!"—Puck.

Anxious. Old Jones—Can you give my daughter the luxuries to which she has been accustomed?

Cholly (engaged)—Not much longer. That's why I want to get married.—Chicago News.
